PRESBYTERIAN COLLEGE
CLINTON, SOUTH CAROLINA
VOLUME LV

Each night ends with dawn. This, in itself, does not make life any less complicated. Yet the unending progression of fading nights and awakening days frames our lives in proper perspective. Possessing the private knowledge that we have not lost the option to begin again gives us license to continue to hope.

The pursuit of education is an unsettling routine. We read, ponder, talk, and listen, and too soon discover how little we know.

Registering, rallying, reviewing the troops, the honored traditions go on.

MR. Trustee
It's 1971. Do YOU Know Where YOUR STUDENTS Are?

No paving stones to toss, no Winter
 Palace to storm, no avenues to barricade, yet the revolution goes on. Revolution-P.C. style.

Dedication

Sumner Allen King, Jr.

From first acquaintance, his erudite demeanor and dry wit bespeak a man of sensitivity and learning.

A happy melding of brilliance and affability, he is a rare and memorable gentleman.

Thus, to dedicate the 1971
Pac Pac to Sumner Allen King, Jr. is a pleasure we all can share.

There is no better time than now for Presbyterian College to reaffirm her long-time concern for her students as individuals and for their personal growth and to realize again that human institutions rarely die while they retain vitality. These concerns and realizations are dependent upon trustees, administration, students and faculty, but most of all faculty--commiserations for the times are out of order.

The Department of Chemistry has a number of objectives. It provides for both science and non-science majors a basic course emphasizing the scientific method, and a balanced approach to fact, theory, and application of theory.

It also provides the necessary chemistry majors, pre-medical students and other science majors.

The laboratory work is designed to develop the student's laboratory technique, his powers of observation, and his ability to draw conclusions as it adds insight to the course.

DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION

The goals of the Department of Education are to prepare students to be professionally adapt in the art of teaching. The Economics program is designed to provide the student with a broad background in Economic analysis and policy. The Business Administration Major offers three areas of concentration: Management; including accounting, finance, business law and statistics. Accounting; designed to fill the need of a student entering the practice of Public accounting; and Pre-law, for the student planning on going to Law school.

DEPARTMENT OF HISTORY AND POLITICAL SCIENCE

RONALD DANTAN BURNSIDE,
Ph.D. Chairman

The Department of History and Political Science aspires to develop in the student an awareness and appreciation of his own history and culture as well as the history and culture of other people. Only in this way can the student transcend his provincialism and live responsibly in a rapidly changing world. Also, Through the candid study of his own history and institutions, the student is challenged to think critically and independently but with an attitude of tolerance and understanding.

The department has sought to strengthen its program during 1970-71 by the addition of new courses. In the spring term, it offered a seminar course, conducted jointly with the English department, on the culture of the 1920's which emphasized the history and literature of the period. Also in the spring term it offered a one hour course for sophomore history majors to introduce them to the discipline and to emphasize the importance and the proper methods of research prior to the student's enrollment in advanced courses in the major field. During the fall and winter terms, the department offered a course on the Middle East taught by Dr. Nicos Roussos, a visiting professor sponsored by the South Carolina Foundation of Independent Colleges. In the summer of 1971 some of the junior majors will be studying in Graz, Austria where they will earn six hours credit for courses to be selected from a number of disciplines.

The department will continue to explore ways of strengthening its program and offering to the student a more challenging major.

Mathematics, rightly viewed, possesses not only truth, but supreme beauty — . What is best in mathematics deserves not merely to be learnt as a task, but to be assimilated as a part of daily thought, and brought again and again before the mind with ever-renewed encouragement."

DEPARTMENT OF MILITARY SCIENCE

COLONEL WILLIAM B. TUTTLE, JR., B.S.

The army ROTC mission is to obtain well-educated officers in sufficient numbers to meet Army requirements and provide a program at college level institutions which will attract, motivate, and prepare selected students with potential to serve as commissioned officers in the Army Reserve or Regular Army.

A tradition of excellence and imagination provided the framework for significant changes in the ROTC program this year. Enthusiasm for the elective sophomore ROTC program was reflected in the large cadet enrollment. Elective freshman ROTC will commence in the next school year. In ROTC's 52nd year of service to Presbyterian College twenty-nine campus leaders earned their commissions as second lieutenant at graduation.

This year's ROTC program was designed to motivate students through a wide range of interesting and challenging endeavors. Drill periods covered such diverse subjects as Pupil Training, Drug Abuse, Tactical Field Training, and Driver Safety.

"Travel, in the younger sort, is a part of education. . . . He that travelleth into a country before he hath some entrance into the language, goeth to school, not to travel."

Francis Bacon
1561 - 1626

The objectives of the Modern Foreign Language Department include not only "skill" in the language itself but also some acquaintance with the attitudes, customs and cultural heritage of other national groups. Plans for the future include development of courses with primary emphasis on the general culture and contemporary conditions in countries where the languages are spoken, special reading courses, and possibly, foreign literature in translation, for students whose primary interest is not in the area of the language itself.

DEPARTMENT OF PSYCHOLOGY

"Every man is a volume, if you know how to read him."

William Ellery Channing

The department of Psychology seeks to further the purposes and goals of Presbyterian College — the development of the whole individual within the frame work of genuine intellectual freedom and a sense of responsibility to society — in various ways. The course offerings in the department seek to stimulate in the student an increasingly sophisticated curiosity about his world, a greater capacity for critical thinking, and a broader understanding of the bases of behavior in order that he might better understand himself and others, and thus function more effectively in his environment. The temper of our times points up a crucial need for investigation of causes, consequences, controls and modification of behavior if we are to maintain and enhance ourselves in an increasingly complex world.

DEPARTMENT OF RELIGION AND PHILOSOPHY

"The world is my country, all mankind are my brethren and to do good is my religion."

Thomas Paine

The department of Religion and Philosophy serves a unique function at Presbyterian College. It seeks to help students examine their basic assumptions and to develop their view of life. It provides opportunity for them to study first hand and against its proper historical background the message of the Bible and the thought and life of the Church. It challenges them to understand and to evaluate the thinking of Christian and non-Christian religions and philosophies. It encourages students to think critically for themselves.

DEPARTMENT OF SOCIOLOGY

Sociology is a scientific approach to the study of human behavior in groups. Students studying Sociology are exposed to ideas which explain the ways people act and respond in a complex society. While the sociologist does not try to cure the ills of the world, he attempts to find the basic reason why people act the way they do. A sociology major lays the groundwork for: Law, Teaching, Medicine, the Ministry, and many other "people-oriented" occupations.

TED L. HUNTER, M.A.

J. FROST WALKER,
M.B.A., LL.M.

A sea of faces, a melange of different personalities, a conglomeration of separate abilities all make up the student body of Presbyterian College. From the first moment a freshman excitedly dons his "rat" cap until he walks apprehensively across the stage for the last time to receive his diploma, a student's personality is shaped by different areas of campus life. Still, each student remains an individual; each student has a goal and a means to achieve it. As the student advances through each year, his goal becomes clearer. Though the goal for most freshmen is not usually clear, much of the excitement of the first year comes from the attempts to clarify their goal. Sophomores with a year of experience behind them can look to the future with more confidence and determination. By the time a student reaches his junior year, the goal is in sight. Seniors, though, have reached the end point; for some the future is still cloudy.

These are the students of Presbyterian College. Not faces in the crowd but individuals, all.

IN MEMORIAM

JAMES BENSON WATTS
OCTOBER 1952                      APRIL 1971

In the depth of your hopes and desires lies your silent knowledge of the beyond; And like seeds dreaming beneath the snow your heart dreams of spring. Trust the dreams, for in them is hidden the gate to eternity.

Kahlil Gibran

Legend

Welcome to the beautiful valley of Pee Dee, the heart of Southern Tradition. This is the land of high ideals and peaceful realities. Inhabited by thousands of devoted, searching students, this campus provides a stimulating atmosphere for those who wish to pursue their liberal education. Social functions are an important part of this well integrated system; each cord is periodically quizzed on Amy Vanderbilt or Emily Post, and the highest achieve becomes Douglas House hostess.

A veil of mystery shrouds the inner sanctum of college life - the administration building. Here lie, in true equality, the indelible codes which provide each student with numerical identity. Waging across the plaza we catch glimpses of dormitories, the auditorium, classroom buildings, and hungry students foraging for food. Life in these squalid surroundings has recently led students to violent protests, and their food supply has been cut off by the Board of Trustees. This was not looked upon as a violent measure, since Doyle Infirmary is being rebuilt next to the dining hall for quicker service. Life is always improving at Pee Dee. Yes, from high-rise dormitories to convenient facilities, we strive to go "Beyond Tradition."

THE FINE ARTS SERIES

With events ranging from the Trinidad Tripoli Steel Band, fresh from their Ed Sullivan Show appearance, to the Greenville Symphony Orchestra performing Beethoven's Ninth Symphony assisted by our own choir, the Fine Arts Committee has attempted to present this year a wide variety of talent from all sectors of the arts. The outstanding event of the year was, no doubt, James Dickey who held his audience spellbound throughout his powerful reading of his poetry and his novel, Deliverance. Fedora Dramatic events included an excellent program of mime given by Yass Hakoshima, and a characterization of The Canterbury Tales by Rob Inglis. The Neil Wolfe Trio, performing popular music in a jazz idiom, the First Chamber Dance Ensemble, and a presentation of Gilbert & Sullivan works comprised the Community Concert Association presentations.

BLUE KEY SYMPOSIUM

The Blue Key Symposium was an idea of the class of 1970. This group laid the groundwork and the 1970-71 Blue Key members built on this foundation.

The symposium is a new experience for Presbyterian College. Sponsored by the Student Government Association, the Human Relations Council and the Lectures and Concerts Committee of the faculty, the organizers have had various problems and have solved them in the best way they knew possible. Inexperience has been the biggest adversary, and with the benefit of one year of trial and error, it is hoped that next year's symposium will be even better.

PEOPLE...

PEOPLE...

At Presbyterian, the campus fraternities have a multi-faceted image. To some, they symbolize an admirable union of young men for fellowship and life-long friendship. To the less enthusiastic, they often appear to be merely social clubs for the perpetuation of old-time collegiate holl-raising. Perhaps, their true identity is too elusive to define; whatever their status, the Greeks continue to be an integral part of the undergraduate subculture.

Stranded in provincial Clinton, P.C. males have traditionally turned to the fraternity system for their extracurricular activities. Thus the 1970-1971 school year passed like so many others with the predictable yet enjoyable circuit of parties and community activities. However, most Greeks realize that the future may not be uncomplicated with the same sort of institutionalized security.

The college male of the seventies is increasingly a free-thinking type who does not necessarily view the life of an Independent as social suicide. No longer guaranteed an endless supply of rushers, the fraternities must continue to change and adapt to preserve their presently healthy state.

INTER-FRATERNITY COUNCIL

Ross Fogle, Browning McRee, John Evans, Earl Wade, Tom Bishop, Hal Sullivan, Steve Lentz, Warren McKinney, Howard Bean, Dan Kamp

Under the capable leadership of Warren McKinney, the men of the Inter-Fraternity Council were once again faced with the diplomatic task of co-ordinating fraternity activities and lobbying for improvements in the Greek system. In contrast to previous years, formal rush activities were delayed until second semester to enable bewildered freshmen to establish themselves before making a fraternity decision. The climate of change also extended to the annual I.F.C. dance, which was held as a campus-wide event open to all students. In a complex atmosphere of foes and friends among administration and faculty, the I.F.C. was able to establish a working rapport that promises a progressive future.

Chartered at Presbyterian College in 1928, Alpha Sigma Phi was the fourth national fraternity to arrive on campus. With a long history that extends back to its founding at Yale College in 1845, the Alpha Sigs can now claim the title of tenth largest national fraternity. Secluded on the outer fringe of the back quadrangle, the men of Sigma Nu enjoy the pleasurable advantage of off-campus housing. ## HOMECOMING '70

Organizations on Presbyterian College campus range from those set up to govern student activities, to honor societies which recognize outstanding achievements, to those which give students a chance to work and play together with a religious overtone. These clubs are organized at the beginning of the year with old members returning and new members being recruited from freshman and transfer students to continue old projects and to set new goals for the year.

This year many of the organizations have been very active on campus. The student government has led us to advances and improvements in campus life. Others have given student groups a chance for meaningful and personal contact. While other organizations have provided students a chance to help other students and to aid in community projects. As P.C. grows and changes the organizations on campus continue to expand and serve not only students, but the surrounding communities.

Organizations

STUDENT GOVERNMENT ASSOCIATION

In the past year, the Student Government Association of Presbyterian College has become as active, integral part of the college community. Through the efforts of S.G.A. leaders, many long-awaited goals have been reached. Refrigerators for those who desire them are available through the student government. A Review Board, composed of faculty, administration, and students is being established as the supreme authority over campus activities. In addition, the S.G.A. has successfully gained student and administrative voices on the Board of Trustees.

WOMEN'S COUNCIL

The Women's Council is that organization responsible for the formation and establishment of all women's regulations. They have been very successful this year in achieving more liberal rules for the women students. Among these privileges are a new dress code, extended curfews, revised signout procedures, and dorm keys for Seniors.

Members are: Elysia Greenlee—President, Diana Rice—Vice President, Mary Lee Smith—Vice President, Beth Chalmers—Secretary, Harriet Kelly—Treasurer, Jane Brantley, Ann Dudley, Lynn Erwin, Anne Evans, Ginny Nichols, Sandra Ryan, Jane Snoddy, Virginia Sonnen, Maree Waters, Marcia Whitman.

The Women's Judicial Council, composed of a chairman elected by the women students and six members appointed by the Women's Council, is an organization formed for the enforcement of our women student's regulations and designation of punishment for any infractions of these rules. Each infringement is carefully investigated with judgment passed in consideration of the girl's actions and accompanying circumstances.

HONOR COUNCIL

The honor system at Presbyterian College has been set up by the students themselves under the principles that students have the right and the obligation to govern themselves. It is the responsibility of the Honor Council to uphold the Student Constitution "conscientiously and impartially". They act as the trying body in cases of violation of the Honor Code and infractions of the rules set up by the Student Constitution.

PROCTORS

The proctors serve as the administrative link between Dean Stallworth and the undergraduate male dormitories. Assigned to the sometimes trying task of keeping order in their respective halls, they must also report breakage and inoperative equipment and, in the case of freshmen sections, supply the information and counseling needed by newly arrived students.

THE PAC SAC

The Pac Sac has had one of its best and most active years. New ideas, and new processes have been incorporated to make it a better and more comprehensive yearbook. With an active staff of 25 members, it has been possible to create new sections and greatly expand others. Fine Arts, the Service Organizations, and Intramurals have had the most extensive coverage ever. The Military section has been incorporated into other sections, eliminating wasted space and providing a better coverage for that program.

Through the efforts of many interested and active staff members, faculty, and students the 1971 Pac Sac presents an overall picture of this year's ideas, organizations and activities along with the plans and hopes for a more progressive future.

THE BLUE STOCKING

As the weekly student paper, the Blue Stocking continued to play an influential role in the college community. While exposing current issues of concern to full coverage and capable editorial comment, the staff did not neglect the lighter side of student living. The Arbuckle cartoon series wittily lampooned life on campus, while a late fall paper aeroplane contest under Blue Stocking sponsorship provided a moment of comic relief during an otherwise lackluster week.

BLUE KEY

"Challenges and Responses in the 1970s." Blue Key, the national honor fraternity for men, sponsored a symposium during March. It was the result of two years planning. To increase awareness among the college community in the area of national domestic problems, speakers were heard during the three days covering domestic politics, theology and the church, Womens' Liberation, and Black Affairs. Discussions were held following the speeches.

The Blue Key continues to respond to the college community through its leadership and service.

In an attempt to provide a well rounded educational experience at P.C., the Human Relations Council, organized under the SGA, has provided the campus with various programs of lectures, discussions, films, and community service projects which are designed to provide greater student awareness of our society, past, present, and future.

The programs have covered the political spectrum ranging from such radical speakers as John Bonner of the black activist organization C.A.T. to William K. Leonard, state director of the John Birch society. In addition, social topics were presented by James Trussell, author of The Loving Book. VITA (Volunteer Income Tax Assistors) was one of the most successful projects sponsored by the HRC.

Programs on campus included performances on Parent's Day, Youth Day, and Graduation along with their Christmas and Spring Concerts.

MADRIGALS

The Madrigals Singers are members of the choir chosen by audition to perform the annual Christmas Dinner Concert. This Dinner consist of a typical English 16th century meal followed by the singing of 16th century Madrigals and entertainment provided by a jester, a juggler, and a tumbler. The master of ceremonies for the evening is the court jester.

The Madrigals singers are also seen at other times during the year. They perform while the choir is on tour and during a special set of the Spring Concert.

THE FELLOWSHIP OF CHRISTIAN ATHLETES

The Fellowship of Christian Athletes is an organization sponsored by the Athletic Department. Open to all students, it serves the community by sending speakers to various South Carolina churches. The program is that of confrontation of the nation's youth with the challenge of the Christian Church.

WESTMINISTER FELLOWSHIP

Working together — sharing in fun and fellowship, WF has provided an opportunity for students to be involved in community service projects and personal growth and enrichment. The common bond of WF is Christian fellowship — expressed as it reaches to others. Challenging — WF is open for each student to "do his own thing" as he seeks to serve.

Reserve Officer Training Corps provides juniors and seniors an opportunity to be commissioned a second lieutenant in the United States Army upon graduation. This obligation is fulfilled through drill, class room participation and instruction plus a six weeks summer camp at Fort Bragg, North Carolina.

Beginning in the Fall of 1971 both freshmen and sophomores may elect to take ROTC rather than be required to take it as has been true in the past. Upon successful completion of the basic freshman and sophomore program cadets may choose to continue in the advanced program.

C.O.P.

The Child Outreach Program of the Lydia Mills Community is a program designed for children between the ages of four and eleven. The children are divided by age into small groups led by Presbyterian College students. The activities include cognitive or learning skills, games, crafts, and religious activities. The purpose of the program is to reach out to the children of the mill village with Christian concern and love.

RECREATIONAL PROGRAM

In late November a new recreational program was inaugurated at Whitten Village. Staffed by a group of college coeds, the schedule of activities has consisted of two hour-long sessions per week. Working with educable students who will be able to leave Whitten Village eventually, the coeds attempt to establish a warm rapport with their classes. As a major link with the outside world, the P.C. volunteers through their enthusiasm and concern help these students acquire a new interest in the world beyond their school.

Coordinator: Elysia Greenlee

S.P.I.T.

Students Participating in Tudoring (SPIT) is an organization of college students who want to work with local public school children. These students represent every major and just about every attitude on campus. One common attitude is one of sharing and caring for those children who have been "turned off" by school and need help from someone who does care. Among the requirements, the students must "attempt to build in my tutee a sense of personal worth and attempt to build with my tutee a personal relationship not dependent on our respective roles of tutor and tutee".

Among those involved this year are Darlene McLeod, Craig McKenzie, John Evans, Susan Jennings, Betty Buckley, Joan Standridge, Ellen Fluharty, Shirley Dillard, Mark Brannon, Anne Harrison, Jane Ellison, Ben Gregg, Martin Nix, Kathy Newton, Susan Phillips, Jody McDonald, Lang Long, Susan Barrow, Cricket Morgan, Joe Morgan, Bev Poole, Jim Bagwell, Don Rice, Bill Wooten, Geoff Wile, Monty Nelson, Peggy Corey, Candy Connell, Jim Grace, Fleming Gibson, Charlie Taylor, Pat McKee, Beth Worrell, Bill Nichols, Tricia Bennett, Sally Johnson, Artie Wolverton, Gert Hinnen, and Susan Post. Virginia Sonnen is coordinator and Becky Birdsong is assistant coordinator.

We're waiting for Friday night.

T.G.I.F.

Thank Goodness It's Friday is a weekly youth program at Lydia Presbyterian Church led by P.C. students. Endeavoring to reach young people where they are and to put meaning and fun into the church, the college co-ordinators of T.G.I.F. emphasize a contemporary, untraditional ministry with the accent on person-to-person relationships.

Coordinator: Skip Stansell

WHITTEN VILLAGE SUNDAY SCHOOL

Bill Duncan and Carol Byrd tell their group a Bible story.

Each Sunday afternoon a small contingent of P.C. students conducts a Sunday school at Whitten Village. Classes are held on various ability levels, with five groups assigned to each student. Those who participate in this program have found it to be a unique and rewarding experience.

Participants: Theresa Swindall, Harriet Kelly, Sharon Holsapple, Carol Byrd, John Dowling, Walter Gresham, Bill Duncan, Martin Nix.

Presbyterian College athletics has again proven itself a leader in small college athletics. Spurning the Blue Horse to a 5-0 Conference record on the gridiron, Allen McNeill dominated the offense by passing an average of 146 yards per game; Tamon Milton charged across the goal line for 14 touchdowns in 11 games.

Fred Nelson led the basketball team to an 18-9 record for this season. The outlook for the team looks bright with two juniors, six sophomores and one freshman returning.

Led by Tom Porter, the high point scorer in the Carolina's Conference meet, the track team looks to returning sophomores and potential freshman for a prosperous season.

Riding high on the record of being third in the nation for the past three years, the blue horse return boast three All-Americans, George and Jaime Amaya, and Milan Kofol.

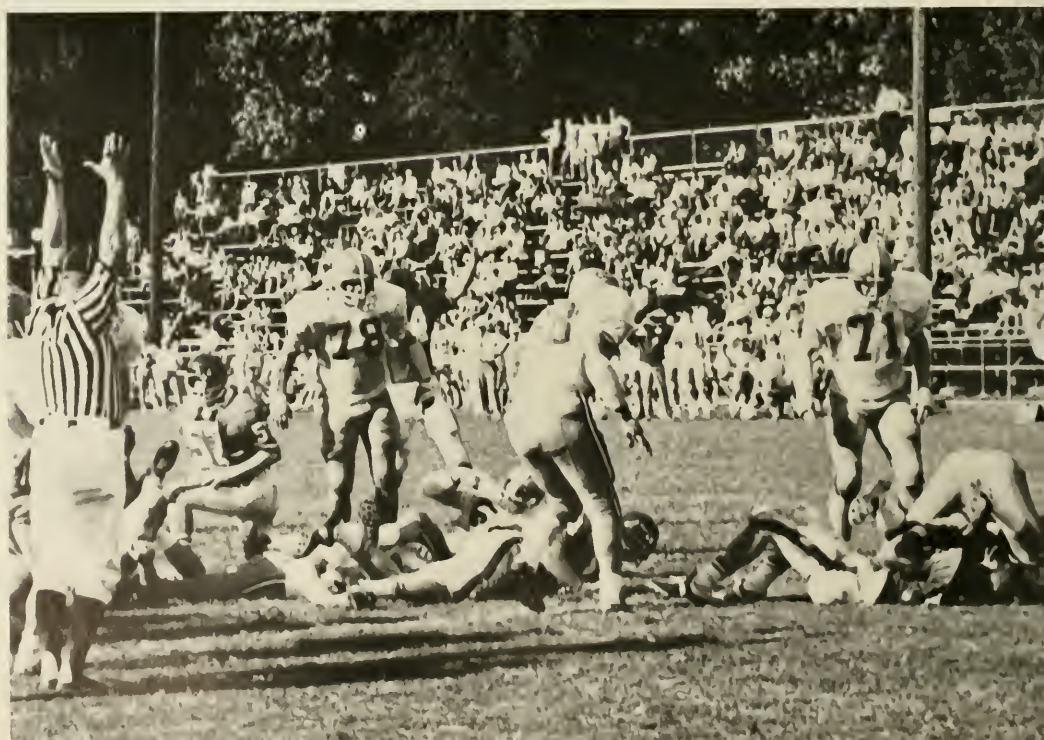

For the third year, the golf team will defend their Conference title, having played in two invitational tournaments, as well as state, conference, and district tournaments.

The rifle team, led by seniors Joe Morgan and Roger Blackstock, looks forward to another successful season.

CONFERENCE CROWN

FITS WELL!

The Blue Hose football team had a very successful season under Head Coach Cally Gault. Although the Hose had disappointing losses to Furman, Western Carolina, and Wofford, the team never got discouraged and played fine ball all season. With the leadership of Allan McNeill, the Blue Hose ended the season with an 8-3 record. In conference play, the Hosemen were defeated with five wins against no losses which includes victories over Elon, Lenoir Rhyne, Catawba, and the season ended with a win over our arch-enemy, Newberry.

The Hose were lead by some making the all-conference team. Some of those outstanding players included Tony Passerello, Phil Shroyer, Bobby Norris and Allan McNeill.

McNeill had an excellent season leading the conference in passing in which he had help from his receivers Lynn Dreger and senior Bill Caldwell. Tam Milton also had a fine season as he went on to lead all scorers in the conference with a total of 84 points. The Blue Hose will truly miss seniors Bill Caldwell, Allan McNeill, Elliot Poss, Phil Shroyer, Lynn Spurlin, Rowland McLaughlin, Bob Hicks and Tommy Lawson.

GAME... SET... MATCH!

COACH
Jim Shakespeare

Tennis at PC began in the early 1930's, and at that time, was one of the first schools in the nation to offer scholarships for the newly-adopted varsity sport. The Clinton area was a hotbed of tennis enthusiasts in the thirties, with over 28 private courts (nine of them lighted) scattered across town. William Jacobs, son of founder W. P. Jacobs, was largely responsible for the sport's introduction into the PC athletic program. The younger Jacobs himself was then vice president of the United States Lawn Tennis Association, and publisher of World Tennis Magazine, one of the best international publications on the sport.

PC's first golden era of tennis was from 1936-43, when Bill Lufler coached the Blue Hose netmen. During the years between 1948 and 1960, PC enjoyed its second great era of tennis, and under Coach Jim Leighton, the team reached a high point when the Hose broke the 72-game winning streak of the University of Miami in 1957. Miami, incidently, didn't lose another game until 1964, when Princeton toppled their winning streak again.

Since 1964, the team has grown ever stronger, and if there's one sport Presbyterian College is known nationwide for, it's tennis. For the past two years straight, PC has been third in the nation, and because of graduated players on the number one- and two-ranked teams, the Blue Hose have a strong shot at first place this year. With a little luck, a lot of reliable contacts in the tennis world, and a good place to scout new players, Coach Jim Shakespeare has succeeded in building the team into one which this year has more All-American players than any other school in the nation. George and Jaime Amaya and Milan Kofol, the three All-Americans, form the vanguard of this year's team. With a number of experienced sophomores and juniors on the team, as well as outstanding in-coming freshmen, prospects for bettering last year's 22-5 record and capturing the NAIA championship looks bright indeed.

Finishing their season by breaking a school record score, the Blue Hose made a top score of 1297 in the Western Carolinas Conference tournament on Feb. 27, 1971. SGM Santos, coach, seemed pleased with the season's outcome of ten wins and six loses.

INTRAMURALS 1970-71

Intramural participation reached record highs this year, as the directors and students busied themselves in the most diverse program ever.

A ten team men's football league started the year with the Kappa Alpha Order taking the number one spot.

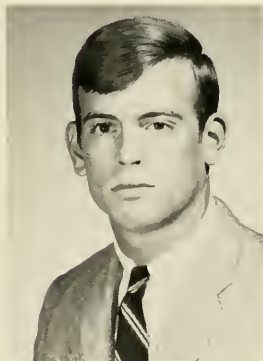

Volleyball reached an all time high of fourteen men's teams. The independent Curoks carved out a perfect record, but the Kappa Alpha Order rallied for a second place finish.

Men's basketball consisted of twenty-six teams playing in three leagues. Turnouts were so heavy that both Thornwell gym and Leroy Springs Gym had to be used in order to accomodate the program. The Bandits were regular season winners, but the points went again to the K.A.'s who won the tournament.

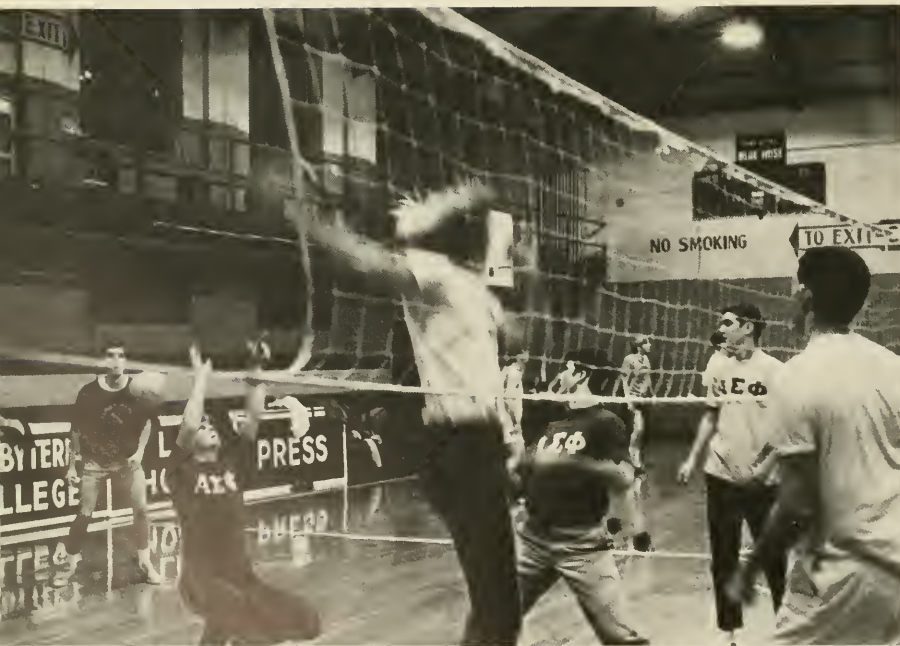

Softball also promises to become bigger than ever; Three fields will be used in an effort to include as many as possible.

Minor sports this year included horseshoes, ping pong, pool, tennis, track, and swimming.

The 1970-71 season also saw a new innovation—girl's intramurals. After a slow start the girl's participated in tennis, volleyball, basketball, horseshoes, and softball. Next year with an increased co-ed population, it is hoped that the girl's program can be expanded even more.

Under the direction of Bill Duncan, Jerry Pooley, and Gene Sullivan, Intramurals had one of the most active seasons in recent years.

One might say nothing has happened. One might say too much has happened. One might even say it doesn't matter. Yet the passage of time is an irreversible fact. This year becomes last year, and who can assess the value?

Epilogue

The dawning of one's awareness is rarely a gentle process. Sequestered at school one too easily believes that the real world, that rather land of weighty responsibility and Draconian justice, has been safely stored out of sight. Yet somehow, between the here and Saturday nights, the cozy hold of weekly routine slips away, and one is left with the unsettling reality that college can no longer be youth's last desperate playground. In reaction, many try to pick up the happy pace, infusing their minds with minutiae to avoid discovery of the basics. Others wrap themselves in cynicism and laugh at a world that cannot be loved. Some eagerly await a chance to change the order; others sit back to enjoy the status quo. Coddled and jaded in the classroom, the chameleonic undergraduate alternates passion with apathy, attempting to figure out how much or how little he cares. And the weeks and semesters go by, and no one can say that he has not been changed.
